Cellar Notes

The 2009 growing season was cool, sunny and dry in autumn, allowing flavours to develop fully in our Pinot Noir grapes. The 2009 vintage has produced elegant, fruit-driven Pinot Noirs with soft tannins and persistence.

Tasting Notes

Our 2009 Central Otago wines are produced by internationally renowned winemaker Alan McCorkindale. Meticulous vineyard management and small batch, hands on winemaking combine to produce a classic Central Otago Pinot Noir, intensely aromatic and lively, bursting with flavours of blackberry, cherry, thyme and subtle oak. The palate is dry and vibrant with underlying complexity and exuberance. The palate is dry with a long finish, soft rounded tannins and youthful exuberance.
